

INCLUSIVE CONCURRENT ENROLLMENT INITIATIVE

Webinar Series: Spring 2015
March 5, 2015

Person-Centered Planning

WEBINAR RECORDING

<http://connectpro97884399.adobeconnect.com/p9s18ymbn87>

This session will describe how students with intellectual disabilities who are planning to go to college can benefit from person-centered planning. Included in this webinar will be an overview of student-centered planning processes, examples of how Massachusetts Inclusive Concurrent Enrollment partners have co-facilitated the PCP process and numerous outcomes that have resulted including academic advising, college enrollment and integrated paid work experiences.

Maria Paiewonsky, UMass Boston

Maria Paiewonsky serves as a transition specialist at the Institute for Community Inclusion, where she oversees numerous transition related projects with teachers, interdisciplinary team members, students and families to develop positive transition outcomes. She has provided training and technical assistance to Inclusive Concurrent Enrollment partners since 2007.

Resources Mentioned during the Webinar

1. My Next Move <http://www.mynextmove.org>
2. O*NET <http://www.onetonline.org>
3. 411 on Disability Disclosure
<http://www.ncwd-youth.info/411-ondisability-disclosure>
4. Individual Learning Plan <http://www.ncwd-youth.info/ilp>
5. Families and College and Career Readiness
<http://www.ncwdyouth.info/families-and-college-and-career-readiness>