Program Description

This intermediate level, one day program provides a comprehensive overview of regulations applicable to packaging and shipping laboratory specimens. Lectures, demonstrations, and group exercises will be used to provide instruction on complying with international, federal, and local transportation regulations. Participants will be tested on their knowledge of the regulations and receive documentation of attendance and testing.

Audience

This intermediate-level program is designed for laboratorians who package, ship, and transport Division 6.2 hazardous materials such as patient specimens and cultures.

Program Objectives

- At the completion of this program participants should be able to:
- Properly classify, mark, label and document Division 6.2 Hazardous Materials (UN3373, UN2814, and UN2900) for transport by ground, air and United States Postal Mail
 - Outline DOT training requirements, including the responsibilities mandated for testing and documentation
 - Choose the most appropriate DOT exception to use when transporting patient specimens by motor vehicle.
