Abstract

This report is a statistical description of the 2,202 individuals committed by the courts to a term of incarceration in the Massachusetts Department of Correction during the year 1984. The tables in this report contain information on the nature of present offense, personal background characteristics and criminal history of these individuals. Some highlights of the statistics presented in this report are:

- There was an 8 percent increase in the number of commitments during the year, from 2,035 in 1983 to 2,202 in 1984. This is a much larger increase than that which occurred in 1983 (2 percent) and may indicate the beginning of a period of growth in court commitments. The 2,202 commitments in 1984 represents the highest level of commitments in DOC history.
- There were 827 commitments to Walpole (10 percent higher than 1983); 643 commitments to Concord (almost the same as 1983) and 732 commitments to Framingham (16 percent higher than 1983).
- Males are committed to Walpole or Concord while females are committed to Framingham. Overall, there was a 5 percent increase in male commitments and a 16 percent increase in female commitments from 1983 to 1984.
- The median minimum sentence for Walpole commitments was six years; the median maximum sentence for Concord commitments was ten years; and the median maximum sentence for Framingham commitments was less than 1 year. Sentence lengths for new court commitments were similar in 1983 and 1984.
- Violent offenses (person and sex) accounted for 67 percent of all male commitments; and 12 percent of all female commitments; and non-violent offenses (property, drug and "other") represented 88 percent of all female commitments and 33 percent of all male commitments. Armed robbery was the single most common offense. The largest increases in commitments from 1983 to 1984 were in the categories of drug offenses (112 more in 1984 than 1983) and sex offenses (66 more in 1984 than 1983).
- The median age at commitment was 26.3 years, slightly higher than in 1983 (25.5 years).
- Sixty-four percent of the commitment population were whites; 66 percent were single; 13 percent had been in the military; 47 percent came from the Boston SMSA; most had limited work experience concentrated in the areas of manual labor and services; the median educational level was twelfth grade; and 22 percent had a self-reported history of drug use.
- Forty-eight percent were serving their first adult incarceration. The median age at first court appearance was seventeen.

Introduction

This report is a statistical description of individuals committed by the courts to the Massachusetts Department of Correction during 1984. The tables in this report contain information on the nature of the present offense, personal background characteristics and criminal history of admissions from the courts. The information on which this report is based was prepared by the Data Processing Unit of the Research Division.

This report includes all new court commitments as well as those who began serving a new sentence during the year (forthwith and from and after sentences). If an individual was committed to the Department more than once during 1984 that individual is counted as multiple court commitments. Some categories of offenders are not included in this report, for example, those who began serving "B" and "C" sentences during 1984 (sentences received for crimes committed on parole).

The following information is helpful in reading the tables in this report. Each table is divided according to committing institution. Since each committing institution receives a very different type of offender, it is important to consider each column in the table as well as the total column. The top number in each cell represents the number of individuals who fall into the corresponding category in the table. The bottom number in each cell appears in parentheses and represents the percentage of the number of individuals in a particular category to the total number of commitments from that institution (column percents).

Cases where information is unknown are also included in the tables and are included in the percentages. It is important to note the size of the "unknown" category. It is particularly large in some of the personal background characteristics variables (e.g. occupation and drug use).

Number of Commitments

There were 2,202 commitments during 1984, an 8 percent increase from the previous year. Figure 1 shows the number of commitments for the period 1974 to 1984. The number of commitments during 1984 was higher than at any time in the history of the DOC. The increase in commitments from 1983 to 1984 was much larger than that of the previous year.

Individuals are committed to one of three institutions: Walpole, Concord or Framingham. Figure 2 shows the number of commitments to each committing institution for the period 1974 to 1984. The number of commitments during 1984 was higher than any of the preceding ten years for Walpole and Framingham but showed a slight decrease for Concord commitments.

The increase in number of commitments was most dramatic for Framingham, increasing from 634 in 1983 to 732 in 1984 an increase of 98 commitments or 16 percent, and Walpole, increasing from 755 in 1983 to 827 in 1984, an increase of 72 commitments or 10 percent. In contrast commitments to Concord decreased by 3 or less than 1 percent. Overall, female commitments increased by 16 percent while male commitments increased by 5 percent.

Almost all of the increase in Framingham commitments came in the area of property offenses, drug offenses, and "other" offenses. Commitments to Framingham for property offenses increased from 229 in 1983 to 270 in 1984 (by 41 or 18 percent); commitments for drug offenses increased from 49 in 1983 to 82 in 1984 (by 33 or 67 percent), and commitments in the "other" offense category increased from 275 in 1983 to 292 in 1984 (by 17 or 6 percent). The increase in commitments in the "other" category was largely due to increases in commitments for disturbing the peace. Commitments for disturbing the peace increased from 58 in 1983 to 75 in 1984 (17 or 29 percent). The increase in Framingham commitments was only among those women committed with county sentences. There were 530 women with county sentences committed in 1983 and 653 in 1984, an increase of 123. There were 79 women committed with state sentences in 1984 and 104 in 1983, a decrease of 25.

For male commitments, those committed to Walpole or Concord, there was a 5 percent increase from 1983 to 1984. This increase occurred among Walpole commitments (by 72 or 10 percent) as Concord commitments actually declined by 3 (or less than 1 percent). This increase occurred in two offense categories: sex offenses and drug offenses. Commitments for sex offenses increased from 155 in 1983 to 221 in 1984 (by 66 or 43 percent); commitments for drug offenses increased from 100 in 1983 to 179 in 1984 (by 79 or 79 percent). Commitments for person offenses declined by 20 (3 percent); commitments for property offenses declined by 37 (12 percent); and commitments in the "other" offense category declined by 19 (31 percent).

Thus, in 1984, commitments to the DOC continued to increase at a rate much higher than the previous year although not as high as the four previous years (1979 to 1982). Increases were found for Walpole and Framingham commitments as Concord commitments actually declined slightly. The increase in female commitments was primarily among women serving county sentences and women committed for property, drug and "other" offenses. Among males, there was an increase in commitments for sex and drug offenders and a large increase in commitments to Walpole.

A Description of 1984 Court Commitments

This section will present a general description of the population of individuals committed to the DOC during 1984. This discussion includes a description of the present offense, personal background characteristics and criminal history of the offender. Where appropriate, comparisons among the three committing institutions will be done.

Nature of Present Offense

In discussing the present offense of the commitment group, only the most serious offense, the offense for which the person received the longest sentence, is considered.

Court of Commitment. Sixty-eight percent of the commitments to the Department of Correction were from Superior Courts. Four courts, Suffolk Superior, Middlesex Superior, Hampden Superior and Worcester Superior, accounted for 48 percent of the commitments to the Department. All Walpole commitments came from Superior Courts and 90 percent of all Concord commitments came from Superior Courts. Only 14 percent of the commitments to Framingham were from Superior Courts; most commitments to Framingham were from municipal and district courts (municipal courts are lower courts of Suffolk County and district courts are lower courts of all other counties with the exception of Brookline Municipal Court in Norfolk County).

Jail Credits. Jail credits measure the amount of the time that the individual spent incarcerated while awaiting trial. A large number of jail credits is usually indicative of a serious crime or a low income offender. Seventy-five percent of Walpole commitments had one or more days of jail credits. This contrasts with 59 percent of Concord commitments and 25 percent of Framingham commitments. The median number of days of jail credits for all commitments was 3.

Minimum Sentence. Only those individuals who received a state prison sentence (all Walpole commitments and some Framingham commitments) received a minimum sentence. Generally minimum prison sentences must be for two and one-half years or more but in some cases can be shorter (some drug offenses carry short prison sentences, for example). The median minimum sentence for Walpole commitments was six years. There were 25 commitments to Framingham who received prison sentences. The median minimum sentence for those women was 5 years. Fifty-four individuals received life sentences during 1984, including one women.

Maximum Sentence. All individuals committed to the Department have a maximum sentence. For Concord commitments this is their only sentence. Generally maximum sentences to Concord are two and one-half years or longer but shorter sentences can be given for some offenses such as larceny, escape and drug offenses. The median maximum sentence for Concord commitments was ten years. A large proportion of Framingham commitments received county sentences, those with a maximum length of less than two and one-half years. Of the 732 commitments to Framingham, 25 (3 percent) received prison (Walpole) sentences, 52 (7 percent) received reformatory (Concord) sentences and 655 (90 percent) received county sentences, including 97 committed for non-payment of a fine.

Type of Sentence. Most individuals committed to the Department received simple sentences (37 percent) or concurrent sentences (32 percent). Less frequently served are aggregate, forthwith or from-and-after sentences. Forthwith sentences are commonly found among Walpole commitments (19 percent); split sentences are commonly found among Concord (15 percent) and Framingham (21 percent) commitments; and 13 percent of the Framingham commitments were in lieu of payment of a fine.

Offense. Type of offense varies by committing institution. Sixty-nine percent of the commitments to Walpole and 64 percent of the commitments to Concord were for person offenses while 37 percent of commitments to Framingham were for property offenses and 40 percent were for offenses in the "other" category.

Offenses against the person accounted for 38 percent of all commitments to the Department but only 11 percent of the commitments to Framingham. Armed robbery accounted for 14 percent of all commitments. There were 122 commitments for homicides in 1984 including 28 for first degree murder, 23 for second degree murder and 71 for manslaughter.

Property offenses accounted for 24 percent of all commitments to the Department, but 37 percent of the commitments to Framingham. Burglary was the most common property offense for Walpole and Concord commitments; larceny was the most common property offense for Framingham commitments.

Sex offenses accounted for 10 percent of all commitments to the DOC. There were 183 commitments for rape during 1984 and 37 commitments for assault with intent to rape. Of these offenses, 127 involved adults and 93 involved minors. Additionally there were 4 commitments for unnatural acts and 3 for other sex offenses during the year.

Drug offenses accounted for 12 percent of all commitments during 1984. The most common drug offenses were violation of the controlled substance act with a Class B substance (N=87) or Class A substance (N=84). The Class B substance category includes amphetamines, cocaine, barbiturates, and other substances. The Class A substance category includes heroin.

Offenses in the "other" category accounted for 2 percent of Walpole commitments, 4 percent of Concord commitments and 40 percent of Framingham commitments. The most common offenses in this category were prostitution (N=107), disturbing the peace (N=77), operating under the influence (N=74) and weapons offenses (N=25). The 3 offenses labelled "other" include: habitual criminal, violation of constitutional rights and custodial interference.

Time Until Parole Eligibility. An indication of how much time offenders will actually serve is the time until their parole eligibility date. About one-half of all offenders will be released at their original parole eligibility date. For Walpole commitments the median time to serve was from 3 to 5 years; for Concord commitments the median time to serve was from 10 to 12 months; and for Framingham commitments the median time to serve was less than three months.

Age At Incarceration. The median age at incarceration was 26 years. The age of new commitments ranged from 16 years to 72 years. The median age of Walpole commitments was 27 years; the median age of Concord commitments was 23 years; and the median age of Framingham commitments was 26 years.

Personal Background Characteristics

In discussing the personal background characteristics of the commitment population, all information is reported according to the status of the offender at the time of commitment. Most of this information is self-reported by the offender and is not verified in any way.

Sex. All Walpole and Concord commitments are males, all Framingham commitments are females. During 1984, 33 percent of the commitments were females and 67 percent were males.

Race and Ethnicity. Sixty-four percent of the 1984 commitment group were white, 29 percent were black and 7 percent were identified as hispanic origin. There were also 5 Native Americans and 5 Asians committed to the DOC. Eleven percent of the commitment group were Hispanics. This includes white hispanics, black hispanics and hispanics whose race was otherwise not identified.

Citizenship. Ninety-seven percent of the commitments were U.S. citizens and 3 percent were citizens of other countries. Two-thirds of the commitments were born in Massachusetts, 20 percent were born in other states, 5 percent were born in other countries and 8 percent were born in U.S. territories.

Marital Status. Most of the commitment group were single (66 percent). Seventeen percent were married at the time of their commitment, 9 percent were divorced, 7 percent separated and 1 percent widowed.

Military History. Thirteen percent of the commitment group had a history of military service. Sixty-five percent of the known veterans were honorably discharged from military service.

Prior Address. Almost all commitments were living in Massachusetts prior to incarceration. Four counties (Suffolk, Worcester, Middlesex and Hampden) accounted for 71 percent of all commitments.

Occupation. Most of the individuals committed to the Department had previous work experience. This work experience was concentrated in the areas of manual labor (42 percent) and services (36 percent). The median length of tenure in a position was 10 to 12 months.

Education. The median educational level for this population was twelfth grade. Fifty-two percent of the commitment group had completed at least high school, including 19 percent with some college education.

Drug Use. Twenty-two percent of the commitments reported a history of prior drug use; 8 percent reported a history of heroin use. Drug use history was generally based on offender self-reports or criminal history.

Criminal History

Information about the criminal history of individuals committed to the DOC is taken from reports prepared by the Board of Probation and cards submitted by District Courts. These reports identify the number of court appearances and the offenses that the individual was charged with as well as disposition information. In this section the individual's history of court appearances, charges, incarcerations and paroles will be discussed.

Prior Court Appearances. The median number of prior court appearances was nine. Seventy-three percent had court appearances for person offenses, 79 percent for property offenses, 16 percent for sex offenses, 46 percent for narcotics offenses, 22 percent for alcohol offenses and 8 percent for escape offenses.

Prior Incarcerations. Fifteen percent had a history of commitments to a juvenile authority; 39 percent had a history of incarcerations in a county facility; and 24 percent had a history of incarcerations in a state or federal facility. Fifty-two percent were serving their first incarceration as an adult.

Parole History. The number of paroles and parole violations that an individual experienced prior to this commitment are shown on pages 53 to 58. About 12 percent of the commitment group experienced paroles in the past. Fifty-two percent of those with a history of paroles also had one or more parole violations.

Age at Entry Into Criminal Justice Systems. Age of the individual at his/her first court appearance and his/her first court appearance for a drug related offense or for a alcohol related offense are shown on pages 59 to 61. The median age at the time of first court appearance was 17 years of age.
