When you are ready to submit your complaint, click the "Submit" button. You will need to have an email program available from your computer to send the online form to the Commission. When you click the submit button, a pop-up window will appear asking you to select the type of email program you will use to transmit the form, either a default program on your computer, such as Microsoft Outlook, or a web email program, such as Gmail. Once you make your selection, click "ok", and an email message will display with the Commission's email address pre-populated, and your form will be attached to that email. Click "Send" to email your complaint to the Enforcement Division.
